

Survey regions with >20% honey producer representation are categorized as a honey region in study.